

NEW: Introduction to the Terminology of Architecture and Urbanism

In the academic year 2018/19, we start with the pursuit of the extracurricular course on the topic of professional terminology of architecture and urbanism under the guidance of doc. dr. Ilka Čerpes and in cooperation with prof. mag. Tadej Glažar, assist. Vid De Gleria, and external collaborator Arch. Mia Crnič.

Students from the University of Ljubljana are welcome. Foreign students and students of architecture and urbanism are especially invited. The activity will be performed at the Faculty of Architecture, Zoisova 12 in Ljubljana and on the field.

For successful completion of obligations, the student receives 3 ETCS (outside the program), which do not replace credit points for regular and elective subjects.

Sign in via the form that is attached to the notice and submit it to the Students' office FA till 30.09. 2018. We will take up to 50 students. The work will be scheduled for the winter semester 2018. The exact date and place of activity will be published on the FA website at the 1st of October 2018.

Content

In general, the content of the course will relate to the understanding of the terminological basics of the areas contained in the curriculum of the courses of study programs UL FA (urbanism, architecture). On the basis of literature research and field observation (short excursions around Ljubljana and its surroundings), students will present key concepts from the two areas of expertise with sketches and descriptions. The detailed content of the course (a set of terms) will be determined each year by the contractors of the subject on the compilation of the expert terminological dictionary (UL FA, 2017).
