Enota was founded in 1998 with the ambition to create a contemporary and critical architectural practice of an open type based on a collective approach to development of architectural and urban solutions. Over the years Enota has been constantly developing and from its beginnings it has served as a creative platform for more than seventy architects. Enota's team of architects focuses on research driven design of the environment where study of contemporary social organizations is interwoven with the use of new technologies to produce innovative and effective solutions. Enota's solutions are strongly influenced by research, reinterpretation and development of social, organizational and design algorithms that derive from nature. The result is always a strong binding of the buildings with the environment that surrounds them.
